

Composition and aptitude for cheese-making of milk from cows, buffaloes, goats, sheep, dromedary and donkeys

Professeur Stefano Schiavon

Department of Agronomy, Food, Natural resources, Animal and Environment (DAFNAE) University of Padua, Agripolis, 35020- Legnaro, Italy

Stefano Schiavon is a full professor of animal nutrition and feed in the DAFNAE Department at the University of Padua, Italy.

- Areas of interest: relationships between animal nutrition, product quality, environmental impact, and animal health.
- Chair of the Master's program in Animal Science and Technology (2005-2013)
- Member of the Academic Committee for the Master's program in Animal Science and Technology at the University of Padua;
- Former coordinator of the doctoral courses in "Animal and Food Sciences" (2014-2020)
- Member (elected) of the Doctoral Program Coordinators' Council at the University of Padua;
- Member (appointed) of the resource allocation committee for doctoral programs at the University of Padua (2021-present);
- Member (elected) of the DAFNAE Department Council (2023-present).
- Representative of the Animal Science sector within the DAFNAE department (2023–present).
- Author of 270 scientific publications (138 of which are indexed by Scopus, h = 25), book chapters, and presentations at international and national conferences;
- Reviewer for numerous scientific journals (Livestock Production Science; Livestock Science; Ecological Modelling; Italian Journal of Animal Science; Meat Science; Journal of Animal Science).